

Richard Hugh Bagby (- 3 Jan 1929)

Bagby, Richard Hugh. Thursday, January 3, 1929, at his residence, 1614 Riggs pl. n.w., Richard Hugh Bagby. Funeral services at the First Baptist Church, Saturday, January 5, at 2 p.m. Interment Congressional Cemetery.

The Evening Star, January 4, 1929, p. 2

R.H. Bagby, Retired Banker, Is Dead

Succumbs to Illness of Year at the Age of 56 Years

Richard Hugh Bagby, retired banker, died last night at his residence 1614 Riggs place, after an illness of about a year. He was 56 years old and had lived most of his life in Washington.

Mr. Bagby was vice president and director of the Washington Mechanics' Saving Bank, of which he was one of the organizers, and also of the Washington Mechanics' Mortgage Co. He retired from business about two years ago on account of failing health.

Born in King and Queen County, Va., the son of a Baptist minister, Mr. Bagby came to Washington in early life and started in business. His wife, who was Miss Libbie Leslie, of Loudoun County, Va., died several years ago.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Bagby Simmons, with whom he lived; a son, Samuel Leslie Bagby of Los Angeles, and four brothers, Charles T. Bagby, Alfred Bagby and George P. Bagby of Baltimore and John Bagby of Richmond.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the First Baptist Church, Sixteenth and O streets, by Rev. Dr. Samuel Judson Porter, the pastor. Mr. Bagby was a life deacon of the church.

Interment will be in Congressional Cemetery.

The Evening Star, January 5, 1929, p. 3

Bagby Funeral Services Are Conducted Today

Interment for Late Resident of Washington Is Made in Congressional Cemetery

Funeral services for Richard Hugh Bagby, retired banker, who died at his residence 1614 Riggs place, Thursday night, are being conducted at the First Baptist Church, Sixteenth and O streets, this afternoon, Rev. Samuel Judson Porter, the pastor, officiating. Interment is in Congressional Cemetery.

Mr. Bagby, who was 56 years old, retired from business about two years ago due to failing health. He served as vice president and director of the Washington Mechanics' Savings Bank, and also of the Washington Mechanics' Mortgage Co. He was a deacon of the First Baptist Church.

The Washington Post, January 5, 1929, p. 10

Funeral of Banker To Be Held Today

Rites for Richard H. Bagby Will Be Held in First Baptist Church

Funeral services for Richard Hugh Bagby, retired banker, who died Thursday night at his residence, 1614 Riggs place, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. Burial will be in Congressional Cemetery.

Mr. Bagby, who was 56 years old, and had spent most of his life in this city, was a native of King and Queen County, Va. He came to Washington in early life and entered business here. At the time of his death he was vice-president and director of the Washington Mechanics Savings Bank, of which he was an organizer, and also of the Washington Mechanics Mortgage Co. About two years ago he retired from active business on account of ill health.

Surviving him are his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Bagby Simmons, with whom he lived, a son, Samuel leslie Bagby, of Los Angeles and four brothers, Charles T. Bagby, Alfred Bagby, and George P. Bagby, of Baltimore, and John Bagby of Richmond.