Francis Browne, Real Estate Man, Ex-Bookkeeper

FRANCIS S. BROWNE

Francis S. Browne, 92, who was known as the greeter at the Calvary Baptist Sunday School, Eighth and H streets N.W., died yesterday in his home. Mr. Browne came here from Atlanta when he was 1. He worked first as bookkeeper and then head bookkeeper at the Lincoln National and First National Banks. He then became a real estate broker.

He joined the Vaughn Bible Class at the Sunday school 74 years ago and was its oldest member in age and longevity.

Survivors include his wife, Effie, of the home at 1501 Farragut street N.W. They have no children.

Services will be at the Lee Funeral Home, Fourth Street and Massachusetts avenue N.E., at 1 p.m. tomorrow with burial at the Congressional Cemetery.
