

George W. Cecil

(1876 – 27 Jun 1918)

Cecil. Suddenly on Thursday, June 27, 1918, George W., beloved husband of Josephine C. Cecil (nee Fitz-Senge) in the 42d year of his age. Funeral from his late residence, 756 13th street southeast, Monday, July 1 at 2:30 p.m. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

The Evening Star, November 4, 1904

City and District

George W. Cecil, a member of No. 8 engine company fell through the pole hole of the home of the company this morning and was injured about the body and head. He was at work cleaning the pole at the time the accident happened. The ambulance was summoned and Cecil was taken to the Emergency Hospital for treatment.