

William G. Davis

(- 7 Sep 1886)

The Evening Star, September 8, 1886

Dropped Dead in the Street

William G. Davis, a huckster when passing through Ridge street between 4th and 5th street northwest, last evening fell dead from heart disease. The body was removed to his residence, No. 450 9th street southwest, where his family resides.