

Daniel H. Koop

(1865 – 15 Dec 1921)

---

Koop. Suddenly, Thursday, December 15, 1921; at 7 a.m., Daniel H. Koop, beloved husband of Elizabeth J. Koop (nee Dixon). Funeral from his late residence, 482 Maryland ave. s.w., Monday, December 19 at 2 p.m. Friends and relatives invited. Interment at Congressional cemetery. (Cincinnati papers please copy).

The Evening Star, December 15, 1921, p. 17

Drops Dead In Store

Daniel Koop, fifty-six years old, 482 Maryland avenue southwest, dropped dead while shopping in a grocery store at 200 4-1/2 street southwest about 7 o'clock this morning. His death was due to an attack of heart disease.

Mr. Koop is survived by his widow and three children. About a year ago he received a serious injury to his leg in a fall down an elevator shaft in a laundry, where he was employed as foreman, and, it is stated, has not been in the best of health since that time.