Carl Frank Krogmann

Pilot

Carl Frank Krogmann, 69, a retired commercial and private pilot who was a longtime area resident, died Nov. 12 at Arlington Hospital after a heart attack. He lived in Arlington.

Mr. Krogmann was a native of Washington and a graduate of McKinley Technical High School and the University of Maryland. During World War II, he flew Atlantic patrols for the Royal Canadian Air Force and the U.S. Coast Guard.

After the war, he traveled the world as a pilot for foreign airlines and for private firms. He had lived in the Far East, sub-Saharan Africa and the Middle East. He returned to the Washington area in the mid-1960s and was a standby pilot for several local airlines and charter firms, and was a pilot for the Pomponio family before retiring after a stroke in 1978.

Survivors include his wife, Gerri, of Arlington; two sons, Jack of Silver Spring, and Frank Jr., of Warlington; his mother, Clare Krogmann of Silver Spring; two brothers, two sisters, and five grandchildren.
