

Frank Morey

(11 Jul 1840 – 22 Sep 1890)

The Washington Post, September 23, 1890, p. 2

Death of Ex-Representative Morey

Gen. Frank Morey died at his room, 340 street, early yesterday morning, having become ill of malarial troubles during the flooding of his Louisiana plantation by the recent freshet in the Mississippi River. He was ill when he started North and had only been here a few weeks, having left Mrs. Morey and his daughter at Fincastle, Va. Mrs. And Miss Morey arrived here yesterday in response to a telegram announcing the general's severe illness. Th earrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed, Mrs. Morey being well-nigh prostrated by grief. Gen. Morey was elected to Congress from the Fifth Louisiana district to the Forty-First Congress and represented that district in the four succeeding Congresses.

The Washington Post, September 24, 1890, p. 6

The Funeral of Gen. Morey

The funeral of Gen. Frank Morey, of Louisiana, will take place from the Metropolitan M.E. Church, Four-and-a-half and C streets northwest, at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The following gentlemen will act as pall-bearers: Hon. J.R. West, Hon. H.R. Peale, Hon. S.S. Burdette, Hon. Charles Pelham, Gen. J. Hale Sypher, and Mr. Storey B. Ladd. The remains will be interred in the Congressional Cemetery.

Biographical Directory of the United States Congress 1774-1989

A Representative from Louisiana; born in Boston, Mass., July 11, 1840; attended the public schools; moved to Illinois in 1857; studied law; entered the Union Army in 1861 in the 33rd Regiment, Illinois Volunteer Infantry, and served until the close of the Civil War, principally on the staff duty, with the rank of captain; settled in Louisiana in 1866 and engaged in cotton planting and the insurance business; member of the State house of representatives in 1868 and 1869; appointed a commissioner to revise the statutes and codes of the State; commissioner to revise the statutes and codes of the State; commissioner to the Vienna Exposition in 1873; elected as a Republican to the 41st through 43rd Congresses; presented credentials as a Member-elect to the 44th Congress and served from March 4, 1869 to June 8, 1876, when he was succeeded by William B. Spencer, who contested the election; moved to Washington, D.C. and died there September 22, 1889; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.