

Adam L. Rose

(- 10 Mar 1889)

Rose. On the morning of March 10, 1889, Adam L. Rose in the 73d year of his age. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend his funeral from his late residence, No. 1008 Georgia avenue southeast, Thursday, the 14th inst. at 2:30 o'clock p.m.

The Evening Star, March 23, 1889

In Memoriam

Rose. On March 10, 1889, after a brief illness, Adam L. Rose, aged 73 years. Mr. Rose was a native of the eastern part of the city, the location of his birth and death was but a few squares distant. At an early age he obtained employment in the gun carriage shop of the Washington Navy Yard. His industry and fidelity in the discharge of the duties required of him secured for him the confidence and respect, not only of those immediately over him, but also of the naval officers in command of the yard during the long period he continued in employment, from boyhood until his death, a period of 55 years. For many years past he was a foreman in the pattern shop. Mr. Rose was kind in disposition, true in his friendship, and possessed that charity "that thinketh no evil." He enjoyed the respect and confidence of his neighbors, that is a great deal to say of anyone. The writer of this knew him quite well, and never heard an unkind word said of him. Mr. Rose was a friend to everybody and everybody his friend. He was long a member of the Second Baptist church, located corner Virginia avenue and 4th street southeast. He was a member and for many years treasurer of Harmony Lodge of Odd Fellows, and also a member of Lebanon Lodge of Masons. In all the relations of life he was a true man; doubtless he is now reaping a reward in the eternal world of faithful stewardship here--work well done.